

VGI Health Technology – US Divisional Patent to be granted

Sydney New South Wales, 4 April 2022 – VGI Health Technology Limited (NSX:VTL) is pleased to announce that the United States Patent and Trademarks Office (USPTO) intends to grant a divisional patent for the 'Transmucosal Delivery of Tocotrienols' to its wholly-owned subsidiary Invictus Biotechnology Pty Ltd.

Previously, a US patent directed to a method of treating post exercise muscle soreness or delayed onset muscle soreness (DOMS) by transmucosal administration of a tocotrienol was granted in June 2020. The present divisional patent application extends this coverage to pharmaceutical compositions containing delta tocotrienol which have been formulated for transmucosal delivery. This composition can be used for the treatment or prevention of additional indications such as fibrosis and cancer. Once granted, the patent formally entitled 'Transmucosal Delivery of Tocotrienol' will provide commercial rights in the US until 13 November 2032.

VTL's CEO and Managing Director, Dr Glenn Tong said "The US is one of the highest priority markets for both our drug development program and our nutraceuticals business and we are very pleased with this strengthening of our intellectual property rights coverage internationally."

VTL has corresponding patents granted in the US, Canada, Japan, the European Union, Australia, New Zealand, Singapore and South Africa.
